

Baltic Sea Youth Platform - April Newsletter

Child Trafficking in the Digital Era Conference

The purpose of the conference is to shed light on how technology facilitates trafficking in children, who the victims are, and what the impact is on children who are trafficked. Participants will also learn more about identification, investigation, safe paths to recovery and justice for children.

The BSYP will also host a youth panel during the conference. The youth panel has the chance to follow the conference, ask questions, discuss with experts and provide input for a common youth policy paper that will be discussed within the CBSS Expert Group on Children at Risk and the Task Force Against Trafficking in Human Beings. Read more and register here for the main conference, read more and register here for the youth panel.
